Seven May Not Stand Trial In Hopkinsville

HOPKINSVILLE May 19 (UP)—It appeared today that because of legal technicalities, only one of seven persons who had been indicted yesterday would have to stand trial in the next regular Christian County grand jury.

Indictments against seven of 12 persons named in an investigation of vice and official corruption here were quashed by Special Christian Circuit Judge Lawrence S. Grauman, of Louisville.

The court's action came after a motion by Defense Attorney William R. Clark when the case of Joe Davis, former Hopkinsville safety commissioner, was called. Davis was charged with misfeasance in office.

Grauman instructed Special Commonwealth's Attorney Wells Overbey, Murray, to refer all the cases to the next regular grand jury for possible preparation of new indictments.

Overbey stated that all of the cases except one involve misdemeanors and the 12-month period within which such charges must be presented to a grand jury has expired.

Quashing of the indictments means that Davis and the six other persons will not stand trial this week and maybe not at all.

The other five and the charges they faced were: Police Chief James Greenfield, misfeasance in office; Maud Dossert, maintaining a nuisance and selling liquor without a license; Patrolmen Morris Lamb and James Nichols, drunkenness on duty; and Tommy Datto, suffering gaming.

Grauman upheld Clark's claim that the special Christian County grand jury was illegally in session, Clark contended that no order was entered on the court order book designating a second three-day term of the special grand jury that returned the indictments.

Grauman also sustained a motion by Clark for a new trial for James Hook, suspended Hopkinsville policeman, convicted last week of assaulting a Fort Campbell soldier and sentenced to a year in jail. Clark contended that the State of Limitations precluded an assault-and-battery conviction against Hook. Hook had been indicted on a malicious-striking charge, a felony, but the jury found him guilty of the misdemeanor charge.

Clark made no move during the trial to quash the Hooks indictment, nor did he move for a new trial in the case of Hopkinsville Patrolmen Philip Crabtree and Buford Chilton, convicted of shooting dice and fined $20 last week.

The indictments quashed grew out of a vice investigation by the Hopkinsville Chamber of Commerce and Ministerial Association.

Plane Returned To Czechoslovakia

BERLIN May 19 (UP)—The U. S. High Commissioner returned to Czechoslovakia today the "Freedom Airliner" used by Czech anti-Communist in their escape to the West two months ago.

A six-man Czech crew took off from Tempelhof Airfield for Prague on the Czech National Airlines C-47 transport.

The high commissioner turned the plane to its owners three days after the Czechs released American newsman William N. Oatis from imprisonment on "espionage charges."

The High Commissioner emphasized there was no connection between the release of Oatis and return of the plane.

Four Czech anti-Communist commandeer the airliner on March 23 while it was on a regular flight from Prague to Brno, Czechoslovakia. They skinned across the Iron Curtain at tree-top level and landed at the U. S. Air Force Rhein-Main base outside Frankfurt.

Mother Child, Tw And Herse.

ATLANTA, Ill. May 19 (UP)—Authorities said today that a mother, who had been indicted for the murder of her young son, put the torch to the boy, two other children and herself in a murder-suicide plot.

The charred bodies of Mrs. Esther Pauline Foley and her children, Michael Lee, 5, Mary Lou, 3, and Frances Gale, 10 months, were found in a burned garage and tool shed near their farm home Monday.

Logan County Sheriff Clair W. Smith said "It evidently was a murder-suicide although we don't know quite how she did it yet."

"We are not through with our investigation — and we are not quite satisfied," he added.

Smith was asked if there was any evidence that the 33-year-old mother had tied her children in the shed and answered "that's what we've been looking for so hard."

He said containers of gasoline and other inflammable liquids had been stored in the shed.

Mrs. Foley's 88-year-old husband, Don, told Smith and County Coroner Donald G. Holland that the woman had previously threatened to kill her children and herself. Foley said his wife disliked Michael Lee and was at her difficulties during his birth.

Four other Foley children, es- sentially dead in the blazing garage. They were at school at the time of the tragedy.

Mrs. Cotham will have charge of Poppy Day activities of the Auxiliary in the different parts of the city and will be assisted by a large corps of volunteer workers.

"Observance of Poppy Day is made possible by the volunteer workers who give their time and energies to bring poppies to everyone," said Mrs. Cotham. Through their tribute is paid to the war dead and funds are collected for the welfare of the war's victims, the disabled veterans and the needy children of veterans. I hope their public spirited services will be recognized and rewarded on Poppy Day."

Litterbugs Costing State Many Thousands Of Dollars Each Year On State Highways

FRANKFORT, Ky. May 19 (UP)—Kentuckians are throwing away hundreds of thousands of dollars of their tax money each year by throwing trash on the highways within their state, according to W. P. Curtin, Commissioner of Highways.

Everything from beer cans to dead livestock is being thrown on highway rights-of-way in some areas, and the problem has become one of the major headaches in maintaining Kentucky roads. Reports from all of the state's 11 highway districts show highway dumping to be prevalent.

"Hundreds of thousands of dollars that should be going into better highways for Kentucky is being spent each year to clean up trash," Curtin said.

The Department of Highways because a roadside makes a convenient place to dispose of it. Nearly a third of the time spent on maintenance by highway crews is going into cleaning up debris," Curtin said.

The money being spent to pay crews to clean up trash and the money spent in repairing machinery that is damaged by beer cans, bottles and other pieces of rubbish can be estimated fairly closely, Curtin said, but there are other losses, not suffered directly by the Department of Highways, that are incalculable.

Election Date Set By Board

In a special call session of the Fiscal Court yesterday, a special election was authorized for the City of Murray to be held on June 2. The election will be held for the purpose of determining whether the people of Murray wish to continue a present 10 cents per hundred school tax or to let it expire in June of this year.

The tax was originally voted on by the people of Murray to pay for improvements on the present high school building. The last of the bonds for that purpose will be brought in on June of this year, and the tax will expire.

If the people vote to continue the tax, the money will be used to purchase a site for a new elementary school. The school will be built by government funds set aside to aid towns whose school census is raised a minimum of fifteen per cent due to government activity in the area.

Rival Africans Line Up For Bitter Battle With Spears

NAIROBI, Kenya May 19 (UP)—Thousands of rival African tribesmen, armed with primitive spears and poison darts, are lined up for a bitter battle for control of the Mau Mau forest in the Mau Mau area.

Two hundred poppies, armed with Sten guns and rifles, were rushed to the wild area near Sultan Hamud, 60 miles south of this colonial capital, in an attempt to suppress the bitter tribal feud before a pitched battle develops.

Reports received here said more than 1,000 Mau Mau tribesmen, armed with spears, have formed a 40-mile long battle-line between Makindu and Sultan Hamud where upward of 1,000 Wakamba tribesmen, armed with bows and poisoned arrows, have invaded Mau Mau reserve grazing lands.

Several sharp clashes already are said to have occurred.

The Wakamba tribesmen poured into the Mau Mau reserve and raided cattle herds in retaliation for the murder of a Wakamba at Makindu some time ago. The Wakamba charged that the slain man's cattle were driven off by the Mau Mau.

Senior police and administrative officers from all main districts in the two reserves went to the scene in an effort to arrange "peace negotiations."

OVER the Atlantic Is Where the Storm Is

ILL FEELING that could take years to dispel is raging over the House of Commons in London and the U. S. Capitol in Washington. A speech by Clement Attlee, British Labor party leader, in which he implied that if the U. S. is unwilling to settle the Korean war on terms agreeable to Britain, then Britain should withdraw from the fighting, aroused Senator Joseph McCarthy (R., Wisconsin), to an angry speech in which he called Attlee's words a "cheap, uncalculated, fantastic attack upon the President and people of the United States." Said McCarthy, "Let them withdraw and be damned." Officials and followers are taking sides on both sides of the ocean.

Draft Deferments To Be Tightened

WASHINGTON May 19 (UP)—Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey has recommended tightening college draft deferments, especially for freshmen, sophomores and graduate students.

He also has recommended to the Office of Defense Mobilization that high school seniors be authorized to take the selective service college qualification test which now is restricted to college students.

Under his proposal — subject to President Eisenhower's okay, college freshmen would be required to score 70 on the test or stand in the upper third of the male members of their class to be eligible for consideration for deferment by their draft boards. Freshmen now must be in the upper half of their class. The new rule would let freshmen establish their class standing after one semester instead of a full school year.

Sophomores would be required to achieve a grade of 72 instead of 70 on the test or be in the upper half of their class.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. McReynolds of Lynn Grove, where he was born. He attended Lynn Grove High School where he was a member of the basketball team and a member of the high school band.

McReynolds married the former Miss Frances Brandon of Paris, Tennessee. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Galen Brandon of Paris, Tennessee, formerly of Hazel. He is a member of the First Methodist Church of Murray where he is a member of the board of stewards. He is active in Boy Scout work and has participated in numerous civic drives here.

He declined to discuss whether he had received such information for the purpose of transmitting it to a foreign government.

Frank J. Starzel, general manager of the Associated Press, expressed "complete and full confidence in Oatis' integrity as a newsman." He added:

"His reluctance to discuss certain questions is not to be used as implying anything. For more than two years he has been cut off from all normal contacts, serving a prison sentence in a foreign jail."

TWO YEAR OLD IS CRUSHED BY TRUCK

LOUISVILLE May 19 (UP)—A two-year-old girl was crushed to death today under the wheels of a truck driven by her grandfather.

The grandfather, Hulsey Seay Sr., said he was playing with the child in a porch swing and left her to work on the truck. He said he had no idea she followed him into the lot.

The victim was Jacquelyn Seay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Seay Jr.

William Oatis Back Home

NEW YORK May 19 (UP)—Newsmen William N. Oatis, back in America after two years as a prisoner in Czechoslovakia, said today his only plans were to take life easy for a while.

The 39-year-old Associated Press correspondent flew home Monday for a reunion with his wife, Laura, who he had not seen for nearly three years. He was released from Pankrac Prison in Prague Saturday by an official pardon from his 10-year sentence on an espionage charge.

In a press conference he disclosed he had been grilled eight hours a day for nearly two months between the time of his arrest in April, 1951, and his trial.

He said he wanted to study the record of his trial before giving any thought to a formal repudiation of his "confession." He said the type of reporting he did would not be a crime in America, that he did not feel he was violating the law, and that it was not until after he was arrested that he discovered the repudiation standards under which he had been operating were contrary to Czech law.

Oatis declined to discuss whether he had worked for the U. S. State Department or for any other U. S. government agency. He said that under Czech law, receiving economic, military, and political information constituted espionage "on a lower level" and that receiving such information and transmitting it to a foreign government was "high level" espionage.

He declined to discuss whether he had received such information for the purpose of transmitting it to a foreign government.

Frank J. Starzel, general manager of the Associated Press, expressed "complete and full confidence in Oatis' integrity as a newsman." He added:

"His reluctance to discuss certain questions is not to be used as implying anything. For more than two years he has been cut off from all normal contacts, serving a prison sentence in a foreign jail."

State Department Officials In Washington

State Department officials in Washington said today they would be interested in talking with Oatis whenever it is convenient for him. They disclosed that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, now touring the Middle East, had sent Mrs. Oatis a message telling her he had "taken a special interest in your husband's case and now rejoices with you in his release."

Income Tax Cut Would Begin January 1; Balance Forseen

WASHINGTON May 19 (UP)—President Eisenhower today gave Republican congressional leaders a five-point tax program which calls for letting a 10 percent cut in individual income taxes go into effect on schedule January 1.

He would extend the corporate excess profits tax six months to January 1.

Mr. Eisenhower's program also calls for postponing cuts, now scheduled for next April 1, in excise taxes and regular corporate income taxes. He would postpone the increase of one-half of one per cent now scheduled for next January 1 in the social security payroll tax on employers and employees.

The President laid out his tax proposals at a White House conference with Republican congressional leaders. They were told that the automatic tax cuts scheduled under existing laws would leave a federal deficit of $5,600,000,000 for the 1954 fiscal year starting July 1.

Mr. Eisenhower will discuss taxes, the budget and national security in a nationwide radio speech over all major networks at 10:30 p.m. EDT.

Chairman Eugene D. Millican (R-Colo.) of the Senate Finance Committee said he believes that as a result of the White House conference "taxes will be reduced and that the budget will reach a state of balance next year." An other participant said the administration's budget estimates this morning indicated a deficit under existing law, of about $6,000,000,000 during the 1954 fiscal year beginning July 1. Secretary of Treasury George M. Humphrey has said government spending and income should reach a balance by July 1, 1954.

Mr. Eisenhower's tax plans, if approved by Congress, would grant relief to individuals and corporations at the same time instead of giving corporations a six-month advantage over individuals. Under present law, the excess profits tax will expire six weeks from today. But the plans ran into immediate opposition from one of the congressional conferees — Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-N.Y.) of the House Ways and Means Committee which has original jurisdiction over tax legislation.

Reed also wants to give corporations and individuals tax relief at the same time. But he would do it by letting the excess profits tax expire on schedule and move the effective date of the scheduled individual income tax cut up six months to July 1. This would amount to a five percent income tax cut this year.

Reed told newsmen after the White House party he still is opposed to any extension of the excess profits tax and is determined to press for congressional approval of his bill to cut income taxes July 1 instead of January 1.

Exorcising Of "Evil Spirit" To Be Asked

MANILA, P. I. May 19 (UP)—Manila's tough Mayor Arsenio Lacson said today he would ask the archbishop to exorcise the "invisible torments" of a teen-ager girl in the city jail.

Lacson said he had heard reports that "evil spirits" had been pestering Clarita Villanueva, 18, for nine days and ordered her brought to the city morgue so he could see for himself.

The hard-boiled mayor took medical examiner Maria Lara and other observers, including a group of newsmen.

The girl, who was jailed for vagrancy, described the spooks as "a very big dark man with curly hair all over the body" and "a body with an angelic face and a big mustache."

Lacson said that within 15 minutes while he was sitting beside her the girl had two attacks and was "bitten" on her index finger and neck. She writhed and then laughed as though she had been tickled. She told the mayor the two "things" then took turns biting her neck.

Lacson said he saw marks of human teeth where Clarita had been "bitten," and they "were not made by her."

"Clarita's hand was bitten while I was holding it," Lacson said. "The finger was bitten under my palm. What it is is beyond me. This is something that goes way back to the dark dim past."

Lacson said Lara, a doctor who has been superstitious, was "scared stiff."

"I always thought of this world as a visible thing but here is something unknown, a force unseen but felt," Lara told Lacson. When Clarita was asked to draw pictures of the "things," the pencil "flew off her hand," the mayor said.

Lacson said the girl had been examined by specialists and pronounced mentally sound.

PROCLAMATION

"Whereas three times in the past thirty-six years the young men of our city have been called upon to help turn back a threat to America on foreign battlefields; and

"Whereas the memory of these lives and their sacrifices should live forever in our hearts; and

"Whereas our memory for our war dead and the honor in which we hold them is individually expressed by the annual wearing of the memorial poppy; and

"Therefore, I, George Hart, Mayor of the City of Murray do hereby proclaim, Saturday, May 23, to be Poppy Day in the City of Murray, and do urge all citizens to observe the day by the wearing of the memorial poppy.

Milwaukee Tough Now, But Watch Out For Ace Pitchers

United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK May 18 (UP)—

Those Milwaukee Braves are tough enough to beat right now, but what's going to happen when ace pitchers Warren Spahn and Vern Bickford get back into action along with the strong-armed kids who have been carrying them to victory after victory?

Most teams would run head-on into trouble if they lost a pair of aces like Spahn and Bickford for almost three weeks, but the Braves seemed to be getting along better without them.

In fact, Spahn, who has been out with a pulled side muscle, said "it is going to be tough to break back into the starting rotation again."

It was Charley Grimm's prize ex-GI rookie Bob Buhl, who pitched his second fine game in a row Monday night, a seven-hit, 4-0 victory over the Phils as Milwaukee made its seventh victory in the last eight games and moved back into a first place tie.

Buhl was given a one-run lead in the first inning on a triple by Bill Bruton and a single by Ed Mathews and that was all he needed. In the third Del Crandall hit the longest homer yet to be delivered in the new Milwaukee park, a 400-foot blast into left center. He also drove in the final two runs with a single in the eighth. The Phils suffered the loss of starting pitcher Karl Drews when he was hit in the knee by a line drive in the fifth. He suffered torn ligaments and may be out for some time.

The Reds topped the Dodgers 2-1 in 10 innings on Ted Kluszewski's home run and the Giants defeated the Cardinals 8-6 in other National League games. The Senators blanked the White Sox, 3-0 while Detroit topped Boston 5-2 then lost 8-5 at Boston in American League games. All other teams had open dates.

Kluszewski put an end to an evening of frustration for Brooklyn, which tied a major league mark by leaving 18 runners on base in the first nine innings as Bud Poffenberger yielded 13 walks, a hit batsman, a wild pitch and six hits but bore down to hold off any scoring after Jackie Robinson doubled home a first inning run. ## Cordie T. Rushing

Candidate For

Murray City Judge

Democratic Primary, August 1, 1953

To the Voters of Murray and Calloway County:
I take this opportunity to announce my candidacy for City Judge of Murray. During the years that I have been a member of the City Council I have had the opportunity to familiarize myself with the problems that come before this important officer, the city judge.

Most of you also know that for 25 years I was a business man of this good town, and thus you know that I am very personally interested in keeping Murray the cleanest and most desirable town in our state and in the South.

Maybe there are some instances whereby I am a stranger to some of you people who have come here to make this community a better place in which to live. I am hopeful that I will personally meet you before the primary election. I also want to renew old friendships with all the other folks here. Should I fail, I hope you will take advantage of inquiring of me before you pledge your vote.

God being my Helper, I will strive always to give you the best and most courteous effort as a City Judge should you elect me to this most responsible position in your city affairs. I will always cooperate as I always have with all city and county officers to the best of my ability.

May I thank you for any consideration you may give toward my candidacy.

Respectfully yours,

Cordie T. Rushing

Title Defense Negotiated

By JACK CUDDY

United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK May 18 (UP)—

Pro boxer Jim Norris and Manager Al Weill were slated to begin negotiating today for Rocky Marciano's September title defense, now that Jersey Joe Walcott's "short count" protest has been rejected.

Ex-champion Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati or Roland LaStarza of New York will be challenger, Charles is the National Boxing Association's "logical contender."

There will be a loud screaming from the contender who is rejected.

Completion of the negotiations may require weeks. Al Weill will demand "big money," this time for Rocky's second defense, since the champ's purse for last Friday Chicago fight with Walcott was only $186,038. Jersey Joe's flat guarantee was $250,000.

The Illinois Athletic Commission rejected his "short-count" protest Monday and blasted his hopes of having Friday's bout ruled a "no contest" so that a charity rematch could be ordered.

The rejection came swiftly after clockings of the fight movies in Chicago and New York showed that Referee Frank Sikora had counted out the venerable challenger in exactly 10 seconds, and that Joe still was sitting on the canvas at the count of 10.

Two films were shown in each city. First, the previewers saw a kinescope of Friday's telecast. The kinescope was run at exactly the same speed as the fight, and the knockout on the film was completed at 2:25 of the first round. Also that the count required exactly 10 seconds.

Next came the really magnificent three-dimension movies—the first ever taken of a prize fight. They showed crystal clear that Walcott was still on the deck at "10." They also confirmed from two side angles that the knockout action comprised only two punches—a grazing left hook high on the head and a smashing uppercut to the chin that sprayed Walcott backward to the canvas.

Chairman Robert K. Christenberry of the New York Boxing Commission said after the preview, "he was counted out fairly. And he was really knocked out. He didn't quit. He was stunned and bewildered."

A great part of the world has watched with friendly interest the major events of her life—her father's coronation, her marriage to the dashing Philip Mountbatten, the births of her two children and, finally, her ascendency to the throne. C. Childs read the double ring ceremony on Sunday, May 17, at two-thirty o'clock in the afternoon before an assembly of relatives and friends.

The family pews were of white carnations, fern and streamers.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Miss Lillian Waters, organist, and Harry Hampshire, soloist. The women club members provided food for the workers. Newspapers in the county helped to co-ordinate the project and to publicize it.

With the highways' clean-law enforcement officials in the county have promised that future dumpers will be brought to justice. State statutes provide fines of up to $25 for throwing trash on highway rights-of-way and up to $100 for throwing debris on the highway proper.

"I promise the fullest co-operation from the Highway Department maintenance crews to any group that wants to follow the example of Muhlenberg County and other counties that have conducted similar cleanup campaigns," Curlin said.

Curlin added that if the other counties who have not done so will select new approved dumps as has Muhlenberg, the Department of Highways will be glad to place the signs.

As to resorting to a heavy campaign of fining dumping violators, he said, "We will always do our utmost to see that dumpers are properly punished but that is not a solution to the problem. All violators can't be caught, and those that are may do their dumping somewhere else. Public interest and indignation is the answer and we need the help of all Kentuckians to help protect our highways."

Perfume That Clings

Q.—Dear Penny: I adore perfume, but for some reason or other its fragrance just does not last on me. I have told several of my friends that I want a new perfume but first I must find out about a lasting one.—Mrs. A. W.

A.—A particularly good idea for women who claim that perfume does not "stay with them" is a Liquid Skin Sachet. It smoothly on the skin very easily, and lingers longer because of its sachet base. It has a slower rate of diffusion and evaporation than any other type of fragrance. Try this Houbigant Chantilly Liquid Skin Sachet. Only $1.85 plus tax at Scott-Walgreen Drugs.
